"I Never Knew Pain Killer to Fail before, what can the matter be? Where is the bottle? There, I thought so; it is not Perry Davis' Painkiller at all, but something the druggist must have made himself and I did not notice it; I have used Painkiller for years for diarrhoea, cramps and stomach aches and it never failed."

Williamson Granted Bail.

Williamson, went before Judge Townsend, at Union, last Friday on a writ of habeas corpus and obtained bail for his client in the sum of $2,000 pending the appeal of the case to the supreme court. Mr. Sawyer, of the Union bar, represented Solicitor Sease in the habeas corpus proceedings, the latter being confined to his home by sickness.

Williamson was convicted at the last term of the court at Greenwood for unlawfully beating Werts, and was sentenced to five years in the State Penitentiary.

Better than Pills.

The question has been asked, "In what way are Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets superior to pills?" Our answer is: They are easier and more pleasant to take, more mild and gentle in effect and more reliable upon them they cleanse and invigorate the stomach and leave the bowels in a natural condition, while pills are more harsh in effect and their use is often followed by constipation. Another Happy Pastor.

The other day it was the Aveleigh Presbyterian pastor, this time it is the West End Baptist pastor. When he returned late Tuesday afternoon from a round of pastoral calls he was escorted to the parsonage to look upon a wagon load of choice groceries kindly and generously contributed by his people. None but a preacher can understand the full meaning of a thing of this sort. While his estimate of the material benefit is at its full value, his highest appreciation is for the spirit which prompts the bestowment. There is a blessing to him who gives and to him who receives. The ties which bind pastor and people become stronger and more tender by such deeds of thoughtful kindness. And just in proportion as a pastor's heart is warmed toward his people does he desire and determine to be more faithful in his service to and for them. This is the second experience of this kind the West End pastor had since Dec. 1st, but the kindness of his people has not been confined to these alone, their generous spirit has made itself known on numerous occasions and in a variety of ways, for all of which he desires to express his most hearty appreciation.

The two pastors named are very happy in their recent experience, but they are by no means ambitious to enjoy a monopoly along that line.

A Doctor's Bad Night.

"Two years ago, as a result of a severe cold, I lost my voice," writes Dr. M. L. Scarbrough, of Hebron, Ohio, "then began an obstinate cough. Being urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, I found quick relief, and for last ten days have felt better than for two years." Positively guaranteed for Throat and Lung troubles by all druggists. 50c. and $1.00 bottle. Trial free.

HICKS CASE WON.

Was in Court for Five Years. Tried On the Circuit Twice and Argued in Supreme Court Twice—Defendant Represented by Johnstone & Welch, Receives $2,350 from Southern Ry. Co.—A Noted Case.

On the 18th of this month the case of Hicks vs. the Southern Railway Company, which has been in the circuit and supreme courts for something over five years, was finally decided by the supreme court, and on Wednesday, Messrs. Cothran & Cothran, for the defendants, handed over to Hicks' attorneys, Messrs. Johnstone & Welch, $2,352.35, amount of verdict given by the circuit court and all costs in the case.

The case is a most noteworthy one, in that it is one of the very few cases in which the supreme court has ever granted a petition for a reargument, and the only one in which it ever reversed itself upon a reargument. Following is a brief history of the case:

Coleman Hicks was a brakeman in the employ of the Southern Railway Company in 1895, and at the time of his injury was doing duty as a brakeman upon a freight train heading into Batesburg. The freight train, on account of its length, and there being a number of cars already on the siding, was unable entirely to clear the main line. It pulled in as far as it could and left a few cars standing on the main line, or in other words the freight train was "swinging." Mr. Blanton, who was in charge of the train as conductor, seeing the situation, ordered Hicks to take a flag and go as far in the direction of Columbia as possible and flag an incoming extra passenger train. Hicks got a flag and ran as fast as he could and as the train bore in sight flagged it, delivered his message to the engineer as he slowed down in passing him, and ran on toward the rear of the train to board. The passenger train, after Hicks had gotten on the bottom step with one foot, with his entire weight on that foot, made a jerk, and in his exhausted condition from the long run, his foot slipped off the step and struck the rail and was immediately passed over by the wheels of the car. The passenger train went on into Batesburg and left him in this condition. He was afterwards picked up by an incoming freight train a half hour afterwards and brought into Batesburg. He was then carried to Columbia the same night and the next day the front part of his foot was amputated by Dr. D. W. Taylor.

Some time during the fall of the year of 1897 suit was begun for $5,000. At the March term of the court of 1898 for Newberry, a verdict of $2,800 was recovered, Judge Gage presiding. Motion was made by the defendant for a new trial, the motion being based upon the ground that Coleman Hicks was a fellow-servant with the other servants on the passenger train that caused his injury. Judge Gage reserved his decision at the time, and in about a month filed his opinion, wherein he held that Hicks was a fellow servant with the injured servants and, therefore, barred from recovering in this action. At the March term of the court of 1899, Judge O. W. Buchanan presiding, the case was again tried and a verdict for $2,350 was recovered. Another motion was made by the defendant for a new trial, based upon the same grounds as that made before Judge Gage. This motion was overruled. An appeal was thereafter taken to the supreme court by the defendant and was argued in the November term of the supreme court, 1900, and at the following April term of the court in 1901 the supreme court filed its decision reversing the judgment of the lower court upon one ground.

A petition was thereafter filed in the supreme court on the part of Hicks by his attorneys, asking the court for a reargument on the point upon which the case was lost. The petition was granted and the case was set down for reargument at the November term, 1901. At that term the case was again argued, and in February, 1902, the court handed down an opinion wherein it reversed its former holding, and affirmed the judgment of the circuit court. Thereafter a petition was filed on the part of the railroad company asking for another reargument of the case. This petition was held by the court without action until the 18th of April, 1902, when it was dismissed. On the 23rd of April, the defendant, through his attorneys, Messrs. Cothran & Cothran, paid the attorneys for Hicks $2,832.35 in settlement of the judgment and all costs in the case. This ends the case after being in court for five years and after being tried on the circuit twice, argued in the supreme court twice, and after two petitions for reargument were heard and argued upon. The supreme court was unanimous in its first opinion reversing the judgment of the circuit court and unanimous in its second opinion reversing itself and affirming the judgment of the lower court, Judge Gary writing both opinions.

The case was a hard fought one throughout and Messrs. Johnstone & Welch have won the victory.

A VALUABLE MEDICINE

For Coughs and Colds in Children. "I have not the slightest hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to all who are suffering from coughs or colds," says Chas. M. Cramer, Esq., a well known watch maker, of Colombo, Ceylon. "It has been some two years since the City Dispensary first called my attention to this valuable medicine and I have repeatedly used it and it has always been beneficial. It has cured me quickly of all chest colds. It is especially effective for children and seldom takes more than one bottle to cure them of hoarseness. I have persuaded many to try this valuable medicine, and they are all as well pleased as myself over the results." For sale by W. E. Pelham & Son.
